Describe your project accurately and how you developed your idea

I have been involved for the last 20 years with my own recycling art projects. I live by the sea, and the recent horrific news about how we are ruining the oceans affects me greatly... I have tried to create awareness about this situation creating a magical, fantasy “underwater world” entirely made out from the very waste products that are destroying it. I collect them myself and people bring me some “offerings “ when we are preparing this happenings. I’m creating an environment in which children and grown ups can experience the fascinating side of humans, which can create beauty and destroy it at the same time. This is an immersive project which can grow and adapt to the space in which is presented. An own private undersea pod , or an immense universe of endless trash beauty.
